TAKE A LOOK AT THE FACTS

The Federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) estimates that in 2005 between 1.5 and 1.9 tons of discarded electronics ended up in American landfills.

The Computer Takeback Campaign reports that 130 million cell phones are thrown away every year. That would be at least 32 million dollars worth of scrap and refurbished mobile devices that could be going to companies like yours.

THROWING AWAY MONEY!

Not only are we throwing away things that should be recycled, we are throwing away money. That is why we are here!

Get Green is committed to joining with you to keep our planet green and healthy by reusing or recycling those cellphones that you are replacing with newer models.
